

Routyn UK System Analyst

Role Responsibilities

- To understand Routyn's functionality by service offering: Sales; Transportation; Final Mile and Support;
- To work with Deltion's Sales and Routyn project personnel to ensure that a customer specification has been produced. The Sales representative will agree the specification with the customer;
- To work with Deltion's staff to ensure that projects are correctly reported and managed, working under the supervision of a Deltion Project Manager;
- To accompany Deltion sales staff as necessary and to demonstrate Routyn in support of Deltion sales.
- To accompany Deltion sales staff as necessary and to demonstrate CarrierNet in support of Deltion sales;
- To support Deltion sales staff in the production and submission of proposals for Routyn prospects.

Skills Required

- University educated in a logistics related degree;
- Knowledge of logistics and specifically freight transport, including recent trends;
- Understanding of business requirements;
- Good knowledge of MS Office;
- Knowledge of web-based Software as a Service solutions.

Competencies

- Analytical
- Teamworking
- Organised
- Attention to detail

Package Provided

Deltion is looking for an individual who can join as an analyst and help to develop this new area of their business. For the successful candidate, the company offers the following:

- Training on award winning systems, up to and including expert level;
- Visits to Portugal to working with leading developers of Routyn;
- Meeting with senior managers within the logistics sector;

For the successful candidate, Deltion would provide all the necessary training and support to develop into its leading proponent in this area.

Deltion are looking for an individual who would like to grow as this area of the business grows, there are no restrictions on the potential growth of the individual within the company, including becoming the Business Unit Manager for Routyn in Deltion.